

STEVEN CURTIS CHAPMAN
TO PERFORM ON "FOX & FRIENDS" MARCH 13

New Album 'Deeper Roots: Where The Bluegrass Grows' Available March 22

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Five-time GRAMMY®-winner, Steven Curtis Chapman, will bring the sounds of his rural Kentucky heritage to New York City as he performs on "Fox & Friends," Wednesday, March 13. Chapman's forthcoming album, Deeper Roots: Where The Bluegrass Grows, will be available on all music platforms March 22. To pre-order Deeper Roots, click HERE.

Wednesday, March 13
"Fox & Friends"
6AM to 9AM ET

Chapman recently released a bluegrass version of "Dive" featuring recent Bluegrass Hall of Fame and Country Music Hall of Fame inductee, Ricky Skaggs, as well as "Where the Bluegrass Grows." Deeper Roots serves as the sequel to Chapman's 2013 Billboard No. 1 Bluegrass Album Deep Roots, which was exclusively released with Cracker Barrel.

Along with Skaggs, Chapman was also joined by Gary LeVox of Rascal Flatts for a collaboration on "'Til The Blue." Chapman performed the song, which he wrote with Lori McKenna and Barry Dean, for the first time on the Grand Ole Opry stage. The multi-platinum selling singer-songwriter will return to the Opry for a performance and in-store signing of Deeper Roots on March 26. To purchase tickets, click HERE.

Deeper Roots was produced by Chapman and Brent Milligan, engineered by Milligan and Brent King, mixed by Milligan, King and Sean Moffitt and mastered by Brad Blackwood at Euphonic Masters. The 13-track collection features a mixture of familiar hymns like "Life Is Like A Mountain Railroad" and "I'll Fly Away," fan-favorite hits including "Cinderella" and brand-new songs such as "Where The Bluegrass Grows" and the aforementioned "'Til The Blue."
